Environmental Conservation Program

12 Feb.,2019

‘Conservation implies using the land and its resources wisely for the long-term benefit of mankind.’

Jagan Nath University Jaipur organized an Environmental Conservation Program in which a variety of events for all students were arranged in order to inculcate a sense of love and affection for nature. The event's major goal was to raise awareness about the best ways to maintain our natural resources and promote sustainability.

Dean Student Welfare gave a speech highlighting the critical need of environmental preservation. She made an appeal to everyone in her address to contribute to the preservation of nature's equilibrium. She also noted some of the conservation programmes that our country has undertaken, including as Swachh Bharat Abhiyaan, Project Tiger, and Mangro, in her speech.

The Vice Chancellor, JaganNath University addressed by emphasizing the need of creating a healthy ecosystem to protect current and future generations. He emphasized the importance of community participation in environmental protection and conservation. A total of 41 students attended the event. The event was well coordinated by Dr. Ranjita Soni.
